

Regulations for the Conduct of Examinations

Approved by the Academic Council on 12 June 2026. Applies to all undergraduate programmes.

3.1 Examination weeks

Mid-semester examinations are held in week 8 and end-semester examinations in week 16 of the teaching calendar. No regular classes are scheduled in these weeks.

3.2 Timetable changes around examinations

No change to the teaching timetable may take effect in weeks 7, 8, 15 or 16 without the written approval of the Controller of Examinations. Requests for these weeks are forwarded to the examination cell.

3.3 Invigilation duties

Every faculty member is assigned at most two invigilation duties per examination week. A faculty member on invigilation duty may not be scheduled to teach in the same slot.

Session	Time
Morning	9:30 to 12:30
Afternoon	14:00 to 17:00

3.4 Make-up tests

A student who misses a mid-semester examination for a documented medical reason may take a make-up test within ten working days. The make-up test is scheduled by the examination cell, not by the course teacher.

3.5 Extra classes before examinations

Extra revision classes in week 7 or week 15 are allowed only outside the regular timetable, must not exceed two hours per course, and must be announced to students at least three working days in advance.
